Definitions

What is the difference between an Authorized Farmers Market and a Farmers Market where Authorized Farmers sell eligible goods?

Authorized Farmer - a farmer authorized by the Ohio Farmers Market Network to sell eligible foods at participating farmers markets, farm markets, and/or roadside stands through the 2024 Ohio SFMNP.

Authorized Farmers Market - a farmers market where local farmers and food producers assemble at a defined location for the purpose of selling their produce directly to consumers.

Farmers markets are intermediaries. They assist the Ohio SFMNP with making the program more available to plain community farmers, lower technology farmers, etc. They will issue an alternative currency to be spent within their market at their participating farmers. Farmers markets also increase access to fresh, locally grown eligible foods to Ohio's older adults.

Authorized Farmers may often participate at Authorized Farmers Markets. In this case, the farmer may choose to accept benefits in one of several ways: with the Homegrown Benefits app, as farmers market currency or both.

Farmers Markets Where Authorized Farmers Sell Eligible Goods - a farmers market location where Authorized Farmers sell their goods, but where the farmers market itself is NOT authorized. In this situation, the farmer will accept the benefits directly.
